Game Creator • Author • Filmmaker • Speaker

Allen will tell captivating and funny stories, talk about important issues, and share his experiences that will powerfully connect with your audience.

About the Games

Allen realized how important it is for people to be able to connect relationally during the global pandemic so he adapted two of his award-winning games into new games contained within books that can be played in person or over a video call.

Called a “terrific icebreaker” by Real Simple Magazine, You're Pulling My Leg! asks players questions about their lives and the secret flip of the coin tells them if their story should be true or fake. Players win tokens if they voted correctly but lose them if they're wrong. You're Pulling My Leg! is for ages 13 and up while the Junior version is for kids and families, starting at age 9.

The games have collectively won fifteen awards and were named a “Top Toy of the Year” by Creative Child Magazine.

Allen is a down-to-earth game creator, filmmaker, author, and storyteller who inspires audiences with his laughter and unique style.

A gifted speaker, Allen will leave your audience inspired, thinking, laughing, and most of all, ready to have some fun in the midst of the current state of our world.

Rave Reviews

"Morning Star Games was chosen as the Best Toy Line based on the overwhelmingly positive feedback from our Family Testers. The games provide hours of fun and surpass our tough testing criteria. They challenge memory skills and encourage abstract reasoning, logical thinking, and strategy. Our Family Testers also appreciated the intellectual stimulation, play, and laughter which are hallmarks of Morning Star Games. Players enjoy the interaction and challenges which inspire everyone to simply appreciate each other for themselves."

"Allen Wolf was such a delight to work with on The Eric Metaxas Show. Not only did he share fascinating, even kooky stories, but his infectious laugh throughout his one-on-one with Eric kept the interview in high-spirits throughout. Eric loves to "go deep" (30 or 40 minutes) with his guests, and at the end of the full 40 with Allen, Eric wished he had had more time. Allen Wolf is unquestionably a must-have guest!
